

For 30 years, the University of Arizona Aquaculture Pathology Laboratory has been dedicated to providing quality diagnostic and research services for the growing shrimp industry worldwide.

The University of Arizona Aquaculture Pathology Lab is located in Southern Arizona in the middle of the Sonoran Desert! Tucson is surrounded by beautiful mountains and is located about 220 miles away from the ocean, making our lab the ideal location for shrimp disease diagnosis and research.

2024 Shrimp Pathology Short Course

2024 Shrimp Pathology Short Course

Disease Diagnosis and Control in Marine Shrimp Culture

Sponsored by:

The University of Arizona
Aquaculture Pathology Laboratory
School of Animal & Comparative
Biomedical Sciences
Tucson, Arizona

Lectures on diseases affecting shrimp industry worldwide and hands on training on diagnostic methods that include:

- Wet Mount Analysis
- Histopathology (H&E, in situ Hybridization)
- PCR (Conventional & Real-Time PCR)
- Microbiology

STATE OF THE ART CLASSROOM

Registration Information:
Registration is limited to 26 participants

Location:
Tucson, Arizona

Dates:
June 24, 2024-June 29, 2024

Cost:
Early Registration $1,800.00 (USD) if the full payment is received on or before May 15, 2024.

$2,000.00 (USD) if the full payment is received on or after May 16, 2024.

Student Rate $1,250.00 (USD) – Must have valid student ID and 1-page Letter of Interest